Perpetual Motion

Marimba – 4 mallets. The round and round, back and forth between right and left hands give this piece a dizzying feel of perpetual motion. It should remain at the same spirited dynamic and speed throughout, with both hands giving each note the same strength and duration. Take care – this piece is a little tongue-twister!

Evelyn Glennie

Bright, with spirit ♩ = c.104

The musical score is written for marimba in 4/4 time, marked 'Bright, with spirit' and 'mf' (mezzo-forte). The tempo is indicated as approximately 104 beats per minute. The piece consists of 12 measures, presented in four systems of two staves each (treble and bass clef). The music is characterized by a constant eighth-note rhythmic pattern in both hands, creating a sense of perpetual motion. A large, semi-transparent watermark 'O' is centered over the middle of the score.
