Side Note from Jennifer: This is my first hymn arrangement. It came about because my brother asked me to arrange something for his book. When playing this song, I am expressing my testimony. The last section of the song should be played as if one were experiencing difficult trials and sought help and comfort through a plain and simple prayer.

To get the desired effect, play the first of the song very softly. The echo of "I Need Thee Every Hour" should barely be heard. Continue to hold down the last note of each phrase when you lift the pedal, so the note can still be heard while the next phrase is playing. Release the note only a few beats before that hand starts to play again.

The musical score is written for piano and consists of three systems of staves. The first system starts with a treble clef and a bass clef, with a dynamic marking of pp (pianissimo). The second system begins with a measure number of 5. The third system begins with a measure number of 10 and includes a dynamic marking of p (piano). The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and bar lines, and is overlaid with a large, semi-transparent watermark of the letter 'O'.
