Side Notes:

- This song came about in part because my sister Jenny told me she liked the melody. For over a year the written part of the song stopped at the end of the first page in the middle of the phrase. Jenny kept telling me to work on it. It took 5 or 6 attempts, but I think I finally found it. The name of the song fits because there were many nights I'd go to bed after rewriting the ending and know that what I'd written didn't fit it. Who knows, maybe I'll change it again. Feel free to come up with your own ending if you don't like this one.

Where are you now?

The musical score is written for piano in 3/4 time with a tempo of 110. It consists of four systems of two staves each (treble and bass clef). The first system is marked mp. The second system is marked With Pedal. A large, semi-transparent watermark '©' is centered over the second and third systems. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and accidentals.
