SPEAK LIKE A CHILD

Words and Music
by PAUL WELLER

1. Your hair hangs in golden steps. You're a bo-na-fi-de in
 2. Your clothes are clean and your mind is pro-duc-tive. It shops in stores where ev-ry res-pect. You are walk-ing through streets that mean no-thing to you.

 on-ly the best can buy. You're cool and hard, and if I sound like a le-cher,

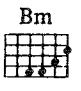

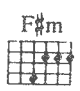

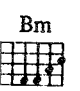

(1) You be-lieve you're a-bove it and I don't real-ly blame you. May-be that's why you
 (2) it's pro-bab-ly true. But at least there's no lec-ture. I real-ly like it when you Speak Like A Child; the things you're say-ing like "I'm so free and so wild."

 Speak Like A Child; the cra-zy say-ings like "I'm so free and so wild."

And I be-lieve it when you look in my eyes; you of-fer me life, and You have to make a bar-gain with me now. A pro-mise that you won't ne-ver lies. Least on-ly the kind to make me smile.

 change some-how. No way, the no how.
